Common questions

Where does my Estate car sit?

Estate cars sit in Tier 2 Grande (£30). This is one of the most common mis categorisation errors. An estate car has an extended boot and larger body than a standard hatchback or saloon and should not be booked as a Standard.

I have a large SUV with 7 seats. Which tier?

If your SUV is a full-size model with three rows of seating such as a BMW X7, Kia Sorento or Volvo XC90, you are in Tier 3, Maxi (£35). Mid-size SUVs with up to 5 seats sit in Tier 2, Grande.

My vehicle is not listed. What should I do?

If your vehicle type does not appear in any of the four tiers above, please contact NEXA before completing your booking. We will confirm your correct tier and ensure your booking is processed accurately.

What happens if I select the wrong tier?

Your assigned provider will verify your vehicle on arrival. If your vehicle does not match the selected tier, you may be asked to pay an adjusted amount in line with the correct NEXA rate card. In cases of significant misclassification where the customer declines to pay the correct rate, the booking may be cancelled and a 70% refund issued in line with our cancellation policy.
